

Call for Proposals: PhD Event

DAMR seeks to actively engage with PhD researchers working on migration issues. For this aim, the DAMR gives young researchers the opportunity to organize academic events. The proposed events can be workshops, panel debates, or other innovative events that bring together academic researchers and/or engage with a wider audience. The focus of the event can be on a wide range of issues related to migration debates around the world, and relate to different dimensions of the phenomenon. However, activities that have an interdisciplinary approach and involve members from multiple institutions are particularly encouraged.

DAMR can contribute towards the costs of organizing an event up to a maximum of 500€ per event, depending on the proposed event budget and within the limits of the available funds. The event should take place in the academic year of 2023/2024.

If you are interested in organizing an event, submit your proposal of max. 2 pages specifying the following: Names and affiliations of workshop coordinators; Title and abstract of the proposed workshop; Provisional event type and details (sessions, participants, proposed invited guests); Draft budget

The complete proposals should be sent to Laura Cleton (laura.cleton@uantwerpen.be) by 23 October 2023. You will be notified before mid-November whether your proposal will be granted funding.

If you have further questions about this call, please contact Laura Cleton (DAMR secretary) at laura.cleton@uantwerpen.be.
